

September 25, 2021

With another minority, Unifor calls for a progressive coalition government to bring stability, Jason Kenney mismanages the pandemic, racial justice forums coming, Orange Shirt Day on September 30, sign up for the pay equity webinar, Jerry Dias pledges action at Media Council and Canada could be an electric vehicle powerhouse.

WHAT'S HOT

Unifor National President Jerry Dias reaches million dollar milestone in 'Hope in High Heels' donations for Halton

TAKE ACTION

Unifor Young Workers believe our future is worth the fight! Join us this fall for a series of virtual events leading up to the Women's Place to provide services to women and children escaping violence.

READ MORE

World Day for Decent Work on Oct. 7. Register now.

REGISTER HERE

IN THE NEWS

Another Liberal minority government win shows the recovery Canadians want requires a stable Liberal - NDP coalition government says Jerry Dias.

READ MORE

Unifor is calling on the Liberal and NDP leaders to work together to implement progressive change to benefit workers.

READ MORE

Seven Unifor Racial Justice Forums bring together union leadership, activists, employers and community organizations to brainstorm new ideas, tools, strategies and policies for racial justice, whether in union locals, workplaces and communities.

READ MORE

As COVID cases skyrocket in Alberta and start to level off elsewhere, Jason Kenney's ideology seems to be the most harmful threat to Albertans.

READ MORE

When Canadians were surprised with a summer election call, Unifor members sprung into action to ensure that workers were informed, engaged, and ready to vote on September 20.

READ MORE

Speaking at Unifor Media Council, National President Jerry Dias committed the union to picking up the fight for a stable media sector in the wake of this week's federal election.

READ MORE

On Aug. 31, 2021, the Pay Equity Act became law. Join our webinar on Sept. 29, led by Unifor National representatives to learn what pay equity is, how the process works, and your next steps. Register now.

REGISTER HERE

Canada is poised to become an auto manufacturing powerhouse in the transition to electrification but the newly elected federal government must bring stakeholders together to develop a coordinated plan on the road to 2035.

READ MORE

Canada's auto industry is undergoing a major transformation to electric vehicle (EV) manufacturing. Register now for a one-hour webinar on the challenges and opportunities of EV transition for auto parts workers on Thursday, September 30 at 4 pm.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

Hours away from a midnight strike deadline, workers at the Globe and Mail nearly unanimously voted to ratify a new three-year deal Thursday night.

READ MORE

Unifor Local 240 and 1256 members reached a new tentative agreement with Ford Motor Company of Canada covering plant protection officers in Windsor and Oakville.

READ MORE

Food Basics workers warn customers of pre-Thanksgiving strike deadline.

READ MORE

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

Watch as Ontario Regional Director Naureen Rizvi leads a team canvassing for Unifor Member Tracey Ramsey, who fought hard to try and unseat a conservative in Essex in Monday's election.

WATCH VIDEO

RESOURCES

Unifor's Road Map for a Fair, Inclusive and Resilient Economic Recovery

With the election over, Canada needs to focus on rebuilding the economy to be fair and inclusive, and not return to the status quo. Unifor's Build Back Better pan sets out how to do that.

READ MORE

Unifor

115 Gordon Baker Road, Toronto ON M2H 0A8

Toll-free: 1-800-268-5763 | communications@unifor.org